

WOMAN SHOOT HAVERHILL MAN

Thomas Nickerson, Manager of Haverhill Gas Co., is Made the Target of Three Shots.

Haverhill, Aug. 13.—A young woman who used a heavy veil to conceal her identity from outsiders walked into the office of the Haverhill Gas Light Company this afternoon and fired three revolver shots at Thomas Nickerson, the manager. She was quickly overpowered and police assistance was summoned, but when a policeman reached the office he was told that he was not needed. Walking calmly by the policeman at the office door, she stepped into an automobile and was driven away. Mr. Nickerson has permitted the affair to remain a mystery.

The shooting caused an uproar in the office. Two clerks seized the woman, who was brandishing the revolver. While both were trying to hold her and at the same time keep out of the line of the muzzle, George G. M. Nichols, former city solicitor, who happened to enter at that moment, rushed upon the woman and disarmed her.

The Haverhill police were notified by telephone that the services of a policeman were required at once, and Patrolman Milton C. Morse was dispatched to the office in haste. Nothing was said of a shooting.

When he arrived he was met at the door by Mr. Nichols, who told him that he was not sure whether his services would be needed after all. Then the young woman marched out. As she passed Morse she stopped and said to him:

"What on earth are you here for?"

"I don't know," answered Morse. Then she tripped down the steps to the automobile.

As the policeman went away Nickerson's touring car was driven to the door. Nickerson, apparently unhurt, and Nichols ran out, got into it and were driven off.

When the police learned that there had been a shooting affray, and attempted to probe the matter, they were met with a rigid silence on the part of every one of the dozen employees who were in the gas company's offices at the time. Each one, when questioned, asserted that he was positively sworn to secrecy, and there was nothing to tell.

A complete description of the young woman was obtained, however. She is about 25 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches, with masses of black hair, and very large black eyes, and is very good looking. She was dressed in white and wore a large picture hat.

The engagement of Mr. Nickerson, who is a graduate of Harvard '99, to Miss Phyllis Sherwood, the talented young actress who appeared in Boston last winter as the leading woman in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," was recently announced. It was said to be a love match, pure and simple, and no rumors of any estrangement between the two have been current.

Last winter Miss Margaret Love of Boston who was a chorus girl in the "Arenadians" company, brought suit

Enclosure on Bartlett Street Near Southern Division Tracks.

The Boston and Maine railroad is building a stock yard off Bartlett street near the tracks of the southern division yard.

The enclosure will be 32 feet square and will be utilized in the loading and unloading of live stock. For several years the shipments have been handled at the foot of Dover street, and the owners of cattle and railroad men have experienced no end of trouble owing to the escape of animals taken from the cars.

MOSES RESIGNS AS MINISTER

Had Offers from New York Newspapers, but Resignation Was Not Expected So Soon.

Washington, Aug. 13.—President Taft today sent to the Senate the nomination of Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University, to be minister from the United States to Greece and Montenegro.

Minister George H. Moses, who Mr. Schurman succeeds, has resigned to take up other work. His resignation has been entered at the state department.

It had been somewhat generally known that Mr. Moses had long had this action in mind, but there was no suspicion that it was to come so quickly.

It is understood that a New York newspaper which makes a specialty of foreign news has several times made Mr. Moses highly remunerative offers, but whether or not he has decided to accept is not known. He was to return on a leave of absence about Sept. 1, and in a letter sent from Montenegro he so told his friends here. He was expected at that time. It is expected that in view of the later developments his return to America will be postponed for some time.

George Higgins Moses is editor and part owner of the Concord Monitor and was sent to Greece and Montenegro by President Taft in 1909. He was born in Lubec, Me., Feb. 3, 1863, the son of the Rev. Thomas Gannett and Ruth (Smith) Moses, and was graduated from Franklin high school, this state, in 1885, from Phillips Exeter Academy in 1887, received the degree of A. B. from Dartmouth College in 1890 and the degree of A. M. in 1893.

He was married at Franklin, Oct. 3, 1893, to Florence Abby Gordon. He served as private secretary to the governor of New Hampshire in 1889-

1901; entered the newspaper business at Concord, 1890; was secretary to the chairman of the Republican state committee, 1890; secretary to state forestry commission in 1893-96; secretary in governor of New Hampshire in 1895; was delegate at large to the Republican national convention at Chicago, 1908. Besides these he held a number of municipal and other offices.

man of Somersworth, the Rev. J. F. Delahaise, pastor of St. Charles church of Dover, the Rev. Charles J. Luddy of Manchester, the Rev. Patrick Walsh of Manchester, and the Rev. Father Walsh of Portsmouth.

The body was taken to St. John's N. H. for burial. Mrs. Finen was a native of Ireland but had lived in St. John's the greater part of her life.

Other survivors besides the Rev. Dr. John E. Finen are a son, Thomas Finen of New York, and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret McEvoy of Exeter.

Boston & Maine Railroad

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY IS UNWILLING TO LEAVE THE QUESTION OF PUBLIC GOOD TO BE DETERMINED BY THE PROPERLY CONSTITUTED AUTHORITIES.

Most of the scandals in connection with railroad legislation in earlier times were due to the necessity of getting legislative sanction in each instance when authority was desired for the building or extension of railroads. What influenced the passing of an act was not always the public good—it was too often the liberality or audacity of the petitioner in the use of corruption funds.

In 1883 New Hampshire adopted the policy of having the question of public good determined by the courts in conjunction with the Board of Railroad Commissioners. That policy was perpetuated by the last legislature in the Public Service Commission law. The question of the duplication of railroad facilities is a question which should not be influenced by consideration of partisan politics.

The Grand Trunk started out with the proper idea of following the mode of procedure prescribed by the State, by applying for a charter under the general law. Now there is every evidence of its intention of applying to the legislature. Frequent appeals are being sent out by the incorporators and directors of the Grand Trunk subsidiary urging that only such representatives and senators be voted for as favor the Grand Trunk. IN SHORT, THERE IS A DETERMINED EFFORT BEING MADE TO PACK THE LEGISLATURE IN THE INTERESTS OF THE GRAND TRUNK.

Does it distrust the Supreme Court of the State? Does it distrust the Public Service Commission? The most violent opponent of the Boston and Maine Railroad never accused either of improperly favoring that railroad.

We do not ask you to send representatives who favor the Boston and Maine Railroad, but only honest, able, independent citizens who will decide the question in the interests of the State, and who are not indebted to the Grand Trunk for favors given or expected.

Has it occurred to the good people of New Hampshire that most of the incorporators and directors of the Southern New England Railway are men who in the past were most violent in condemning the Boston and Maine Railroad for improper participation in the politics of the State? Those of them who do not favor the policy of packing the legislature with Grand Trunk partisans should declare themselves. TO RIGHT-MINDED CITIZENS, WHETHER THEY FAVOR THE ENTRANCE OF THE GRAND TRUNK OR NOT, THE SUPREME ISSUE SHOULD BE THE PREVENTION OF CORPORATE CONTROL OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Schedule for This Week.

The following is the Sunset League schedule for this week.
 Aug. 14—P. C. U. vs. P. A. C.
 Aug. 15—Y. M. C. A. vs. Riversides.
 Aug. 16—Elks vs. K. of C.

The Riversides defeated the Elks on Tuesday evening by a score of 11 to 2, making a runaway match of it. The Kittery team hit Sorette at will and he got wretched support from his team about everybody taking a chance at throwing the ball around. On the other hand the Riversides played a great game and gave Lombardi great support.

Lombardi allowed but two hits and did not issue a pass, the only run scored by the Elks was in the first, when Hanson was hit and Swayse cracked out a home run.

The game in detail.
 The Elks were up and Bruce was thrown out by Lombardi. Hanson was hit and walked and Swayse picked out a nice one and slammed it between left and center for a home run, scoring two runs. Estabrook was thrown out by Hutton and Fernald by Lombardi.

Grant was passed, Caswell hit to right and Leary rumbled. Pruett hit for two bases and scored Grant and Caswell. Able singled and went to second on Hanson's error and Pruett scored. Hutton fanned. Fenlon singled and Able scored. Philbin was out to Swayse and Farnsworth was thrown out by Bruce.

Score Riversides 4, Elks 2.

Second Inning.

Poole was safe on Hutton's fumble, but he was forced at second on Sorette's grounder to Farnsworth. Hutton covering the base, Sorette was forced by Leary, hitting to Caswell and Leary was thrown out trying to steal second.

Lombardi fanned. Grant walked and stole second and scored on a passed ball. Caswell got free transportation. Pruett fanned and Able was out on a fly to Bruce.

Score Riversides 5, Elks 2.

Third Inning.

The Elks were out in order. Mitchell was thrown out by Hutton. Bruce fouled to Fenlon and Hanson was thrown out by Farnsworth.

Hutton flied out to Mitchell. Fenlon singled, Philbin hit for two bases scoring Fenlon and tried to stretch the hit and was run down between bases. Fernald getting the out. Farnsworth singled and Mitchell let the ball go through him. Lombardi singled scoring Farnsworth. Lombardi was forced at second on Grant's grounder to Bruce. Caswell singled and Pruett hit for two bases scoring Grant and Caswell, and he scored on Able's single. Hutton retired the side to Hanson.

Score, Riversides 11, Elks 2.

Fourth Inning.

Swayse, Estabrook and Fernald

fanned. Fenlon flied to Swayse. Philbin to Bruce and Farnsworth reached first on Bruce's fumble, but Lombardi struck out.

Fifth Inning.

Poole was thrown out by Lombardi. Sorette struck out. Leary was hit and went to first and when he walked off Fenlon who had the ball touched him. He was not out however as the ball had not been returned to the pitcher and was still dead, but the game was called on account of darkness.

The collections from Rye Beach defeated York Beach Tuesday afternoon 4 to 1 in the most brilliant played game of the season. Clem Gile the Yale pitcher was steeper than Murray, the Everett high twirler. Sam White of Princeton football and baseball fame was the star of the afternoon. In four times at the bat he made two doubles and a triple besides playing a great game at first base. Wilbur of Syracuse University, Parker of Princeton and Dick Gile of Yale also distinguished themselves for the visitors, while Brickley and Sweetland of Everett high, Norton of Somerville high and Lerner of Walltham all played well for the locals. This makes the series tied at one game each and the deciding game will be played in the near future.

The game in detail.

First Inning.

Brickley opened the game by flying out to Lerner. Shepley also flied to Lerner. Wilbur struck out and Sweetland dropped the ball, but recovered in time to throw him out at first.

Grovison fouled to Wilbur. Marando fanned and O'Dowd hit to Gile, who threw him out at first.

Second Inning.

White doubled to left field, Parker hit a long fly to O'Dowd who fumbled. White going to third and Parker to second. Dick Gile flied to Lar-ner, while Hutchinson and Hill both fanned.

Brickley singled but went out stealing. Wilbur to Brackett, Norton walked, but also got caught stealing. Young singled, but Lerner hit to Gile and was retired at first.

Third Inning.

Clem Gile fanned. Brackett flied to Young while Shepley struck out. Sweetland flied to Parker. Murray singled. Grayson walked. Marando fouled to Wilbur and O'Dowd fouled to Hill.

Fourth Inning.

Wilbur went out Norton to Marando. White flied to O'Dowd. Parker doubled and scored on Dick Gile's single. Hutchinson flied to O'Dowd. Brickley fanned. Norton flied to Dick Gile who made a nice catch in deep left. Young flied to Hutchinson. Score: Rye Beach 1, York Beach 0.

Fifth Inning.

Hill out. Norton to Marando. Gile flied to Lerner and Brackett fanned. Lerner out Wilbur to White. Sweetland singled, went to second on Murray's sacrifice. Gile to White and to third on a wild pitch. Grayson fanned.

Sixth Inning.

Bell fanned. Wilbur flied to Grayson. White tripled to left and scored on Brickley's overthrow. Parker hit a fast one which bounced off Norton and Young threw to first.

Marando fanned. O'Dowd out. Gile to White. Brickley picked out a high one and drove it over Hutchinson's head for a home run. Norton was safe on Brackett's fumble, but Bell, who had replaced Shepley in right captured Young's fly.

Score: Rye Beach 2, York Beach 1.

Seventh Inning.

Dick Gile singled. Hutchinson singled to right, but Lerner threw Gile out trying for third. Hill out Brickley to Marando. Gile fanned.

Lerner out Gile to White. Sweetland walked. Murray struck out and Grayson lined out to Hill.

Eighth Inning.

Brackett and Bell fanned while Wilbur went out. Brickley to Marando fanned. O'Dowd was called out on strikes. Brickley out. Parker to White.

Ninth Inning.

White doubled to right and scored on Parker's single. Parker stole second. Dick Gile struck out. Hutchinson walked. Hill singled to right, scoring Parker. Gile hit to Young, who retired him at first and Hutchinson at home for a first double play.

York went out in order. Norton being called out on strikes. Young flying to Bell and Wearo who was batting for Lerner striking out.

SHARKEY TO MEET BURNS

Sailor Tom Announces His Candidacy for White Heavyweight Championship.

New York, Aug. 13.—"Sailor Tom" Sharkey, once a leading heavyweight pugilist with a record of standing twenty-five rounds before Jim Jeffries and giving the then champion one of the hardest battles of his career, announced himself tonight as a "contender for the white heavyweight championship of the world." Sharkey looks to gain this distinction after a long period of retirement by taking the measure of Tommy Burns, whose defeat by Jack Johnson gave the latter the world's title.

Sharkey says he has been led to believe that Burns wants a return match with Johnson, and expresses his own willingness to arrange a match with Burns, "under any fair

TOMMY AND MIKE GIBBONS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 14.—Mike Gibbons, the wonderfully clever welterweight boxer of this city, says he has the coming middleweight champion of the world in his brother Tommy. According to Mike, Thomas is a wonder with the mitts and will soon visit the east in search of fame and fortune. The younger Gibbons has been drilled in the finer points of boxing by Mike and is now ready to go after the middleweight honors. Tommy outweighs his talented brother by about ten pounds. He is a youngster, having just passed his nineteenth birthday. It is not often that two members of a family shine out brightly in the pugilistic world, but in the Gibbons case everything points to success for the second member.

Blanks Stolen from Army Post at St. Michael's, Alaska

SAN FRANCISCO, August 14.—Forged Army paymasters' checks from a book of 100 blanks stolen from the post at St. Michael's, Alaska, are beginning to circulate on the Pacific coast. The forger is supposed to be on his way to Chicago.

Ten of the forged checks, totalling $2000 have been received by the San Francisco sub treasury, it became known today. Altogether some $20,000 worth of the bogus documents are supposed to have been floated thus far.

The forger is known to secret service authorities as a private who has been advertised as a deserter by the war department.

The signature of Elliott Brown of the Twenty third infantry has been forged to all the checks in the possession of the local sub treasury.

The preliminary hearing in the case of George Caswell charged with the murder of his wife Laverne, at Plaistow, March 12 which Judge Hoyt of Plaistow had planned to hold at the Rockingham county farm at Brentwood N. H., Tuesday was postponed until later in the week. Caswell is still in the hospital at the county farm under the care of a trained nurse slowly recovering from the effects of the wounds in his face caused by shots from the gun with which it is alleged, he attempted suicide after killing his wife. During the first six weeks he was at the hospital he was unable to partake of solid food owing to the serious condition of his wounds. Although his wounds are nearly healed he will be disabled for the remainder of his life there being a large hole in the right side of his face.

The hearing in his case will be the first of the kind held at the institution. Caswell, for a number of years resided in Epping his native place.

RARE ANIMALS

With the Great London Shows

The London Shows exhibit the only great blue-faced, rib-nosed baboon in captivity. He is a giant in size, and is possessed of the strength of a hundred men. Decked with rare furs, with gorgeous colors and with indescribable hues, he grins at the startled thousands, a degenerate man or a redeemed brute—which is he? Scientists have not answered the question. He has passed through training school for animals and has thrown aside many antics and notions of the brute creation, and taken on many antics idiosyncracies of finite man. He is at once a wonder and a mystery, and his queer grimaces and wise expressions provoke smiles and serious reflections from the simple mind and the philosophical. To see this rare freak of nature is never to forget it. Howe's Great London Shows Consolidated, according to the general verdict is the greatest Circus Alliance the world has ever known. Will be here Wednesday, Aug. 21.

RAILROAD NOTES

Asst. Supt. John Bourke of the Southern division, D. & M. R. R. will entertain representatives of the Concord papers at a dinner at the Loughaw restaurant at Contoosack River Park this week.

Adelbert Poole, a conductor on the Western route of the Portland division, was overcome by the heat in the North Union depot on Tuesday and died later at the Relief Hospital. He was 50 years of age and a native of Somersworth, N. H.

Operator C. H. Benton has returned to his former place at the depot telegraph office after acting as agent several weeks at Conway.

Mischief loving boys are believed to be responsible for the attempt to wreck a train in Reading by wedging a "fish plate" in a switch connecting a spur track with the main line of the Boston & Maine. The engineer of the 9.29 local from Reading to Boston Monday night discovered the small strip of iron after running over the switch. But for the fact that the train had slowed down before stopping at the Wakefield station, a quarter of a mile away, the engine and three coaches making up the train might have been shot into the open switch on the spur track and ditched.

Railroad detectives yesterday made a complete investigation of the affair. It is their belief that a gang of youngsters who had been bathing in what is known as "Upper Lake Quannapowitt" placed the wedge in the frog.

The New Haven railway private car Connecticut, used by President Mellen, arrived at the South station from Readville shops last night completely overhauled and repainted.

The Pennsylvania railway steel car No. 120, occupied by Vice President Joseph Wood, arrived at the South station, Boston, over the New Haven road from Pittsburgh Tuesday.

"OVER NIGHT"

Last Season's Big Success Opens Regular Season at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, Aug. 19.

The playgoers of this city are due for a real comedy treat in the form of the New York and Boston success "Over Night," which comes to the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for a return engagement of two weeks, beginning Aug. 19th.

One of the best advertisements for the comedy is that it is absolutely free from coarseness, and leaves a sweet memory behind it.

That is why "Over Night" is so entirely different from the so-called "comedies" of the present day. It is funny without being suggestive; its cleanliness is perhaps its greatest asset. It is a proof positive that authors do not have to descend to the lower strata of decency to create laughs. The laughable matter in "Over Night" is very much in the majority; in fact, it is as advertised, "a long, lingering laugh."

Then the laughs come from natural every-day causes, there is no straining to the point of breaking, the entire comedy is heavily laden with merriment of the simplest kind. It tells the story of two college chums on their honeymoon with brides who had never previously met. There is a mix-up on the boat at the start, the husband of one goes ashore with the bride of the other. Missing the steamer, the other bride and groom are forced to take the steamer trip in each other's company. A number of acquaintances of the groom on board insist that they have discovered a runaway match. Explanations seem to be useless, at

NEW APPARATUS FOR PLAYGROUND

The "Slide for Life," a very appropriate name for the apparatus has just been completed at the playground and is one of the most attractive pieces ever invented for the pleasure of the children.

Mr. A. Leland, of the Playground Apparatus Manufacturing Co., at Templeton Mass., has designed the "Slide." It consists of an incline steel cable 120 ft long. Upon this cable a galvanized brass bushed wheel with galvanized iron ring suspended, thereto runs from the high end to the low end. The children climb up to the starting place, take hold of the ring and "Slide for Life," hence its name.

The apparatus has been used with much success in Denver, Colo., Louisville, Ky., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

This is the first of several pieces of apparatus donated by Mr. Woodbury Langdon to be put in operation. The slide will be operated between the hours of three and four of each day, except on Thursday and will be under the careful direction of Mr. Mummet, who will safeguard any accident.

Girls as well as boys may enjoy the "Slide" but the instructors request that the girls wear bloomers.

In view of the completion of the "Slide" the schedule of activities for the afternoon has been changed, and Mr. Mummet will conduct the class in Indian club swinging from two fifteen to three o'clock; from three to four the slide will be open and from four until five o'clock team work, for the girls, such as basket ball, volley ball and baseball will be played.

The baby swings and traveling rings for the girls will be completed in the course of a few weeks or so and will afford another pleasure for the little ones.

The instructor, on behalf of the children wish to extend a vote of thanks to Mr. Langdon for his generosity in furnishing the grounds with the numerous pieces of apparatus this year. We all appreciate most deeply what Mr. Langdon is doing for us.

the time being and, the egregious blunders coming thick and fast, cause no end of merriment. The fact is that no one with a single particle of mirth in his make up, can fail to laugh at the incessant nonsense of "Over Night."

ON $1.30 A WEEK

Then Told She Was No Wife for Poor Man

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The most economical house wife one who can pay all the necessary household expenses on a little over $1.30 a week, has been brought to light through an alimony suit in a Brooklyn court.

Mrs. Irene Shoeder of Staten tells in her appeal to the court how she ran her husband's home successfully for thirty five weeks on $55.

That was hard to do she adds but it was harder still when they parted, to have her husband fling out at her that she was no wife for a poor man.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1912.

The New York Evening Post says another way to fight the heat is to abstain from memorizing the various prescriptions on how to keep cool.

The Springfield Republican says the real victory at the Olympic games is for the metric system. It used to be hard to interest schoolboys in it, but that time is past.

The Cleveland Leader says it is to be hoped that in a short time District Attorney Whitman of New York will be able to start that stirring song "Hail, Hail, the gang's all there."

The Chicago Evening Post says there should be more flashlight photographs of great gatherings of people in auditorium. Yesterday at the Coliseum one of the linen bags used to catch the smoke of the flash caught fire. It hung over the heads of the crowd and thousands watched it with their hearts in their mouths, knowing that at any second it might start a fatal panic and stampede. The same deadly chance was run in the republican convention six weeks ago, when a smoke bag caught fire and had to be extinguished by firemen. What is the use of gambling thus with human life? Who has the right to so gamble? The city fire department, acting under the general police power, should hereafter ban absolutely the taking of flashlight photographs in the halls or theatres of Chicago.

The New York Sun says decision of the Russian government to restore the zar's empire to the rank of a sea power is one of the most interesting incidents in current political history. Its effect upon existing European alignments, its danger to the triple alliance and its usefulness to the triple entente are unmistakable. In two different seas, the Baltic and the Mediterranean, the appearance of a new Russian fleet will compel a wholly fresh adjustment of plans and ideas. Thus Germany, whose rapid naval expansion has sufficed to compel Great Britain to recall its distant fleets to home waters will find a new naval force in her seas, compelling her to make a still greater strain upon her financial resources by still further increasing her program or concede the superiority of the triple entente in her own seas. In the Mediterranean the Russian program will produce even greater modifications, granting that the Russians succeed in opening the straits of the Bosphorus to their new fleet or to the squadron stationed in the Black sea.

The Philadelphia Press says a few who are mainly of the self-styled "aristocratic class" who think themselves superior to other people, oppose the sending of the Liberty Bell to the exposition to celebrate the completion and opening of the Panama canal on the ground that the bell has no patriotic significance or power when removed from its surroundings in Independence Hall. Every American worthy of the name feels his heart beat faster at the thought of what Independence Hall has known and seen and what it stands for today. But nevertheless to say that the bell has no significance of its own, no power of itself to awaken patriotic feelings, is nonsense and flies in the face of experience and truth. No one who has seen the thousands and hundreds of thousands of sturdy men and women and bright-eyed children moved to the very depths of their American hearts partly eighteen months ago. It was at sight of the old bell on occasions in the past when it was carried out among the people, can have much patience with the cold, mathematical twaddle that the Liberty Bell of itself makes no appeal to the patriotic spirit.

The New York Times says it was fortunate for the colleges that the bull moose convention was held during vacation. Had it occurred in term time, their courses of study would have been seriously interrupted. In the west, those great high schools of socialism which, out there, they call state universities were heavily drawn upon for delegates and doctrine. Here in the east, the faculties of some of our chief seats of learning have sent a great part of their socialistic membership to Chicago. We observe, though, that one university professor hereabout is still faithful unto Debs.

Bird's Eye Views.

How can you expect that anybody is going to make any money with the decline that has taken place in the number of failures?

The new party is in favor of the election of postmasters by the people. It seems determined to get us all deeper into politics than ever.

Alaska wants to be admitted as a state, and, as a number of decayed politicians need jobs as state officials, both parties will no doubt favor the proposition.

A notification committee is an assemblage of gentlemen whose mission it is to assure a distinguished and attentive audience for one of a candidate's most important utterances.

The management of Harry Thaw's case has tended to alienate much of the sympathy that might have been extended to a man whose friends consistently presented the idea of insanity.

A prominent progressive is naturally tempted to remain with the party that may offer him a look-in when future presidential booms are passed around.

The Railway Gardening association wants flowering hedges substituted for barbed wire fences along the tracks. The railroads, however, feel that the present decorations of rusty iron and burnt sleepers are appropriate and sufficient.

It will be a healthy thing for the whole country if the loose connection between the New York police force and the vices of the metropolis can be broken. However it must be remembered that entire reform in this direction will inevitably be a long time coming.

The United States should continue to welcome all good immigrants who are sound of mind and body, who are not likely to become public charges, and who are not opposed to our form of government, but a sharp line should be drawn against discussed or mentally unsound persons, against paupers, and anarchists, and a reasonable educational test would benefit the country.

Railroads are becoming such objects of suspicion that it may be deemed wise to prevent them from planting gardens at suburban stations for fear they will organize a side line of competition with the florists.

There are moments when St. Louis appears to forget the kindly sentiment it should feel toward Washington as its former running mate in the lower strata of the right hand column.

Rumor has it in athletic circles that Uncle Joe Cannon is the highest kicker in congress. What was meant is probably not highest but hardest.

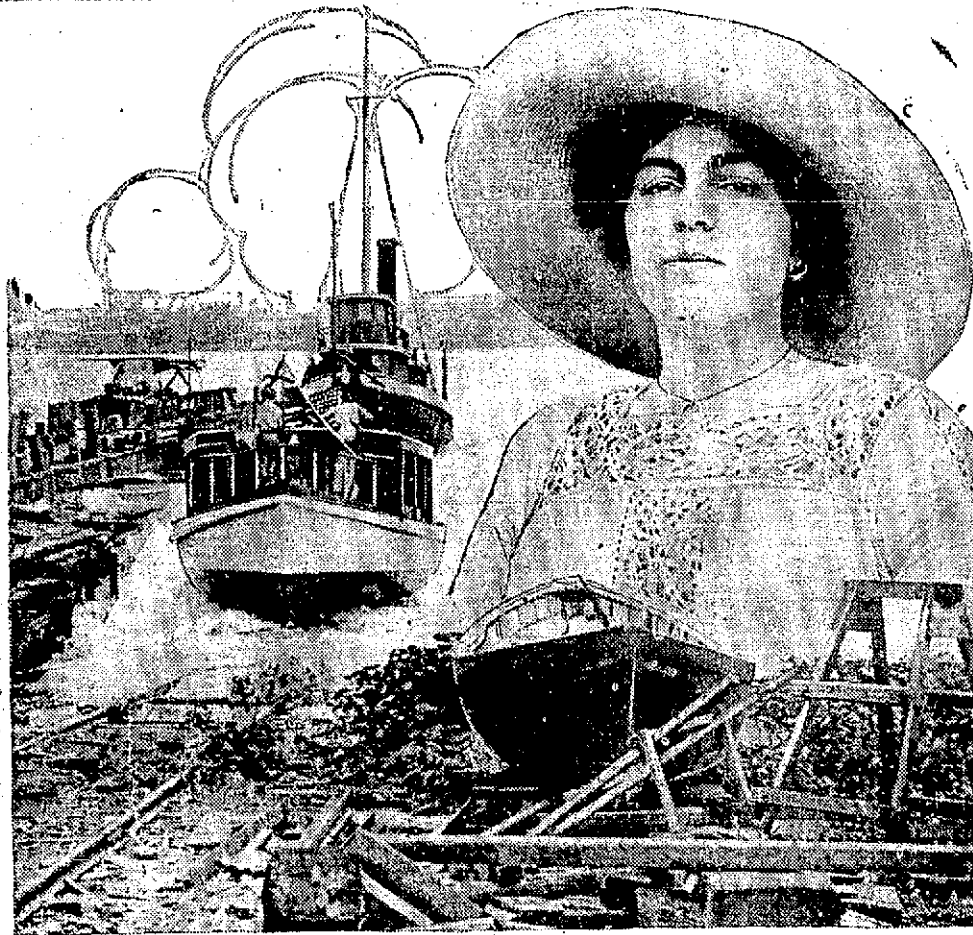

Current Opinion

A Serious Question

If the announced purpose of the committee of the Progressive Association to take steps to form a new party in this state shall be carried into effect, at some time, there will be issued a statement in justification of the move. The reason advanced by Col. Roosevelt for the organization of a new national party was that he was deprived of a nomination for a third presidential term at the regular Republican convention by indefensible action dictated by political bosses. There will be much curiosity as to what reasons will be advanced by this committee, especially in view of the fact that the meeting which authorized the committee voted to remain with the party here on all matters except the national ticket. Participating in this committee meeting other progressive policies and laws.

Prominent at the meeting was Governor Bass, who presided and who was a considerable proportion of the Lincoln Republican Club of six years ago. Its inception was marked by the demand for policies and issues that were pronounced. They labored for them within the party, and meantime the party has put them all into effect and along with them many still holds the office to which he was elected two years ago by a united Republican party and a "pint" form exactly to his own liking. Another participant in that meeting was Speaker Musgrave, also elected to that position by a united Republican party.

Motorboat With Transparent Bottom and The College Girl Who Acted as Sponsor.

The Vidi, a glass bottomed motorboat, was launched recently at Camden, N. J. The boat is fifty feet long with a beam of fifteen feet. The bottom from stem to stern is of French plate glass one inch thick. She is propelled by a twenty-five horsepower gasoline engine and can make twelve knots an hour. Underneath the glass bottom and projecting directly into the water are powerful radioluminescent lights, making it possible to see clearly to a depth of 100 feet. Miss Hazel M. Heath, a graduate of Bryn Mawr, christened the Vidi.

then and still is secretary of the Republican state committee and has been chosen state auditor by the Republican governor and Republican councilors. At the close of the last legislative session, both Governor Bass and Speaker Musgrave congratulated the legislature upon its work, setting forth that it had redeemed its promises to the people and had served the state well. Neither had a criticism to make of disloyalty or inefficiency, but everything to commend. If there are now any short comings to be seen, it is fair to state that it is due to the failure of Governor Bass to suggest the proposition for the platform.

The other members of the committee are close associates of these men. What plausible reasons will they advance for leaving the party of which they still occupy the positions of official leaders? Will it be regarded that they are under no obligations to a party that has thus honored them and has been guided by their recommendations as to public policies, even to its weakening, judged by strength shown at the polls?

And will the thousands of Republicans who have cooperated with them in making the Republican party of New Hampshire a pronouncedly progressive party and which has given the people of the state more progressive legislation than has been enjoyed by the people of any other New England state, to join them in leaving the party with the probability of making it the minority party and thus ending abruptly the good work which it has accomplished, work never better than in the very last few years?

In other states, where Republicans have been successful for pronouncedly progressive policies, such a course has not been deemed wise. In Wisconsin, Senator La Follette believes more good can be achieved by carrying on the work of the old progressive party; and so of Senator Cummings and all of the other Republican progressives in Congress. Is not that the logical and reasonable course for the rank and file of progressive Republicans here to follow?

It is a question too important for snap judgment. Men who have been sincere in their partisanship have not ordinarily left their party without some real reason nor should they do so. When such sit down and seriously consider that phase of the situation here, it is doubtful if they will find it, whatever may be true of other states. It is difficult to reorganize a party once badly disorganized. The question that confronts every Republican of New Hampshire, and particularly those of the progressive faction, now is: Is sufficient justification exist for breaking entirely away from the party? Can the progressive spirit for which the party here stands be best served by seceding to a new party, or by cleaving to the old and continuing to work its purpose there? It is a serious question and should be treated seriously. It is one that every man must decide for himself.—Manchester Union.

Railroad Employees Who Drink

Most railroads have for a long time had the rule that no employee shall drink intoxicating liquors while on duty. And the reason for the rule has been so obvious that there has been little or no criticism. Men to whom the public entrust their lives must be sober. The Luckawanna railroad has now taken a step further and decreed that none of its employes shall drink, either on or off duty. In other words, they must adopt the habits of total abstainers. The reason for this, too, is perfectly apparent. There has recently been a dreadful disaster on that road, and in the investigation it was discovered that the engineer of one of the trains was seen drunk some few hours before he went on duty. A good number of people lost their lives because of his indulgence. Hence the new rule.

There will, as usual, be those who will talk again about this being an infringement of a man's personal liberty. It is a limitation of liberty, of course, but it is limitation with a purpose. And any man who objects to it has the right at any time to withdraw from the employ of the road. The public at large will look upon the regulation as a new guarantee of their safety. And the time will probably come when all the men who have been, by this rule, delivered from a bad habit, will look upon it as a good thing done them in the name of business.—Lynn Evening News.

The Sayville Peril

Here it is only a week since the Senate passed the Lodge resolution declaring that the United States would view with grave concern the possession of any territory of strategic value in the American continent by interests that might be under the influence of a foreign government, and the discovery has been made that a German concern has put up a wireless tower at Sayville, L. I. It is a critical situation, and something ought to be done right away.

Just as likely as not messages have been flashed to Naueu, Germany, from the Sayville station, which was built with German capital and equipped with apparatus made by German workmen in a German factory, describing the taking of New Haven and Waterbury by the invading army of Reds, and the possible capture of New York within a week. At this very moment the generals of the Kaiser's war staff may be marking the movements of the campaign on the charts with red and blue pins. It certainly looks suspicious that the Sayville wireless station should be ready for operation when the war maneuvers in New England are in progress.

We escaped the Japanese peril at Magdalena Bay by the narrowest kind of a squeak, and here is a German peril right at New York's door. What are our fingers doing? What is the Monroe Doctrine for? If Senator Lodge is indifferent in this great emergency, is there no other senator, Democratic or Republican, with enough patriotism to introduce a resolution today warning all Germans, the Kaiser included, that the historic policy of this nation precludes them from sending wireless messages across the Atlantic?—New York World.

PERPETUAL MOTION

When protest arises and rumors grow rife
And reformers are armed for implacable strife;
When fierce resolutions they threaten to make
And chop a few heads for propriety's sake,
Oh, then is the time to shun title and power,
The pride of position will fade in an hour.
When discussing the blame for what ever goes wrong,
Press it along boys, pass it along.

While propriety smiles and the air is serene,
It is proper to stop at the front of the scene
And see the responsible party in all
That fortune of favor may bring to our call.
But when the black clouds of adversity frown
Seek the man higher up or the man lower down.
The blame may be lost in a side stepping throng,
So pass it along boys, pass it along.

against Nickerson for $20,000 for alleged breach of promise. Miss Love charged that a mutual agreement of marriage existed, and although she had been willing to become Nickerson's bride, he had not redeemed his promise. She engaged Julius T. Auerbach of Boston as her counsel, and attachments were placed on Nickerson's holdings in the Haverhill Gas Light Company and in the Boston Storage Warehouse Company.

At the time the suit was filed Mr. Nickerson denied the charges in toto. "Their falsity will be shown at the proper time," he said. Henry M. Hurlburt was retained as his counsel. Later it was reported that a substantial settlement in favor of Miss Love was made, and the case did not come to trial.

PASSED OVER
TAFT'S VETO

Defection of Twenty-One Republicans Give Democrats Their Opportunity.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—By the narrow margin of five votes the house today passed the wool tariff revision bill over President Taft's veto. The vote 174 to 89 was made possible only by the defection of 21 republicans who voted with the democrats.

The announcement of a democratic victory created a wild scene in the house and amid great confusion the republican leaders protested that Speaker Clark must count as voting ten members who answered present to their name a ruling which would have defeated the democratic program by overcoming the five vote margin and making impossible the recording of the necessary two-thirds vote of the house. This the speaker declined to do.

Less than an hour after the wool bill had been released in the house the conferees on the sugar tariff bill met and disagreed.

They determined to report to the house and senate that it had been found impossible to reach a compromise between Underwood and the Lodge-Bristow bills.

This action is expected to mark the end of sugar tariff consideration during the present session.

While the democratic and progressive leaders of the senate do not believe that the wool bill can be passed in that body over the President's veto, they will continue the demand for action on the cotton tariff measure.

The vote on the wool bill came as a surprise to the republican leaders of the house. When they discovered that defection from their ranks was to be expected it was too late to prevent it. As a result the following republicans went over to the democratic camp and with their votes made victory possible for the majority.

Representatives Alken, New York; Anderson, Davis, Lindbergh, Miller, Stevenson, and Stevenson, Minnesota; Anthony, Rees, and Young, Kansas; Cooper and Morse, Wisconsin; Haugen, and Woods, Iowa; Helgeson, North Dakota; Kent, California; Taft, Oregon; LaFollette, and Warburton, Washington; Norris and Sloan, Nebraska.

Not in the memory of the oldest member of the house has a tariff measure ever been passed over the President's veto over the lower branch of congress. Neither Speaker Clark or majority leader Underwood could recollect such an occurrence.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote and declared the bill again had been passed, the President's veto to the contrary notwithstanding there was a wild outburst of applause from the democratic side. The tumult was increased by the demands of a half dozen republicans that their voting was unconstitutional. When semblance of order was restored representative Gardner of Massachusetts insisted that the constitution provided that a two-thirds vote of the house was necessary that the members voting present should be counted, for they had recanted their presence in the house.

Representative Olmstead of Pennsylvania, one of the foremost parliamentarians in congress supported this contention.

Those ten members who voted present, ruled the speaker after a lengthy examination of precedents, are recognized as being present only to constitute a quorum. The constitution as interpreted in the past, clearly provides that all decisions must rest on a yeas and nays vote.

Representative Fitzgerald of New York, democrat, supported by Mr. Olmstead, and Mr. Gardner in their contentions, while minority leader Mann supported the speaker's position.

The speaker, when the debate broke out with renewed vigor, quickly put a damper on it.

You may talk all you want he said, but the chair has no intention now or later of changing its ruling.

Shortly before the vote was taken minority leader Mann appealed to his followers to stand by the republican party and protective tariff principles. He urged upon them the necessity to remain with the minority in order to safeguard a great American industry, which he said would be destroyed under the terms of the democratic bill.

Mr. Underwood who followed Mr. Mann, and closed the debate exhorted wavering republicans to join with the democrats in passing the bill over the veto of the president who believed he could dam back the demands of the American people with veto messages.

In addition to these slight mishaps, the ancient dredger Peepert once more suffered a partial collapse, which put her out of commission for a good part of the day.

OLD SOLDIERS
ARE WAITINGFailure of Congress to Pass Appropriation Bill Causes
Distress Among Them.

Hundreds of appeals from old soldiers who did not receive their pension checks August 1, owing to the fact that congress has failed to pass a continuing resolution in lieu of the pension bill now under consideration are being received by commissioner Davenport of the pension bureau.

The penniless and among strangers, and have had to go to the poor house, wrote one veteran. The pension agent at New York has written that he has $50 of public money to bank and another has the sum of $7 to meet claims aggregating several hundred thousand dollars.

The agencies which pay August 1 are those in New York, Philadelphia, Louisville, Indianapolis, and Toledo. On the date in question pension agents at these places expected to disburse about $15,000,000 but as congress passed a continuing resolution providing for the continuance of last year's pension in the sum of $6,375,000 not one half of the claims have been paid. About $180,000 pensioners are yet to receive a cent on their claims. It is said, as the funds were disbursed according to alphabetical order.

Those whose names begin with A received all their allowances, while the man who happens to be named Parker or Robertson or has an S for the first letter of his name will have to wait until congress gets ready to relieve the financial situation.

Commissioner Davenport has performed his duty up to the minute, the pension office officials say, and that is all any one can do until congress acts.

DOCTOR WEDS AGAIN

Noted Physician and Surgeon Causes a Surprise to His Friends.

Dr. Henry O. Marey a noted physician and surgeon of Boston and Cambridge, who is well known in this city where his first marriage to Sarah E. Wendell took place, was recently married again to Mary E. Smead, of Toledo, Ohio. The former Mrs. Marey died two years ago.

Dr. Marey who has recently passed his 75th year is well known in medical circles and in addition to his work as a surgeon has written extensively written for various periodicals. His home is at Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and he has a private hospital in Cambridge.

His bride is the founder of the Smead school at Toledo, Ohio, for young women which has taken its place as one of the recognized educational institutions of the state.

Dr. Marey is a native of Old, Mass., and was born in 1837. His father was a soldier in the war of 1812 and a teacher by profession. Dr. Marey received his classical education at Willsborough Academy and Amherst college.

He graduated from the Harvard medical school in 1863, and in April of the same year was commissioned assistant surgeon of the 43rd Massachusetts regiment, later being commissioned surgeon of the first regiment of colored troops, recruited in commission in June 1865 and went to Cambridge, where he entered on the practice of his profession.

In 1869 he studied in Europe becoming the first American pupil of Professor Lister of Edinburgh. He was one of the first to introduce antiseptic surgery in America. In 1880 he established a private hospital in the present time.

Dr. Marey is an ex-president of the Academy of Medicine, and also of the American Medical Association. He is also enrolled in the membership of many other medical societies of this country and Europe.

GRAFT TRACED TO THREE HIGH UP

New York Situation Being Gradually Worked Up--Great Amounts Collected.

New York, Aug. 13.—Blackmail extorted from gambling and disorderly houses in New York City is said to find its way into the pockets of three men "higher up," who are the real heads of the graft syndicate, that provides police protection for a price to the underworld.

Information has been placed in the hands of Dist. Atty. Whitman, by private detectives working with him on the Rosenthal case, that these men "higher up" are a lawyer, a hotel proprietor, who claims strong political affiliations, and a police official. Two inspectors are also said to be profiting richly from graft.

Dist. Atty. Whitman is now convinced that "Bald Jack" Rose, told the truth when he said that at least $3,400,000 was collected from gambling houses in one section of New York City along the State's attorney is not willing to hazard a guess on the total amount of blackmail extorted but he is convinced that it runs into millions.

The private investigation is still being continued into the police blackmailing system, of which Mr. Whitman is learning more every day. It appears that for over a year a perfected system has been in operation by which all gambling and disorderly houses have been put under pressure.

The investigation already has shown that there always has been police blackmail through intimidation, by which police officials fattened their bank accounts; but when it was recently "organized" increased results were shown. Private detectives reported to the State's attorney that under the new system of doing things, the grafters were protected from the complaints of the victim, it being one of the boasts that one of the men "higher up" was influential enough to prevent trouble.

Whether or not such influence could be delivered is being investigated.

Dist. Atty. Whitman is said to have been furnished with a list of names of prominent persons who played in various gambling houses. It is said these persons may be subpoenaed to give information.

An important witness in the Rosenthal case has been found by Dist. Atty. Whitman. He will not be called upon to appear before the Grand Jury, but will be kept in reserve until the trial. This man is said to be an eye-witness of the killing.

"Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Weber and Harry Valton will be taken before the Grand Jury today, and if the work of that body can be completed, a blanket indictment charging seven men with the murder of Herman Rosenthal will be found.

THE INCONSPICUOUS MANY

It's curious said Uncle Zeb, the way the slimmer seems. To hold the world's attention to his bold, unrighteous themes. Whenever anyone goes wrong we know his name and face. And say the town he's living in has set an awful pace.

We give but little heed unto the man whose modest way. Doesn't bring him into notice as a figure in the fray. The man would like to be a regular hero if he could.

But tries to do no harm, which is next best to doin' good.

We celebrate the slimmer and the saint we glorify.

But the plain folks in between don't seem to catch the public eye.

Yet we know that for each grafter who precariously thrives

There's a million honest people leading simple, blameless lives.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A smooth man is liable to be slippery.

Not every fortune hunter is a good shot.

A free thinker is a man who isn't married.

Culture will do much for a woman, but it will not permit her to sneeze gracefully.

In the eyes of a silly girl clothes make a mighty poor specimen of a man look like the real thing.

And many a father loses all interest in the prohibition movement when the baby cries for water at 2 a. m.

When a young man tells a girl she is the only one he ever loved it's up to her to tell him to get and get a reputation.

A man spends a good portion of his time deceiving himself, and a woman spends a good portion of hers before a mirror. It's the same thing.—Chicago News.

A Safe Rule.

Tea and coffee should not be given to a child under seven, and the longer the delay the better. A good cotton is often enjoyed, milk and water and diluted condensed milk may also be given, and, very cautiously, plain soda water. It should never be forgotten that milk is a food and not a drink, and that plenty of water flushes the kidneys. There is no reason why a healthy child should not drink when it feels thirsty.

Loving Friends.

Never cast aside your friends, if by any possibility you can retain them. We are the weakest of spendthrifts, if we let one drop off through inattention, or let one push another away, or if we hold aloof from one through petty jealousy or needless slight or roughness. Would you throw away a diamond because it scratched you? One good friend is not to be weighed against the jewels of earth.

Lovers' Tokens.

Spanish lovers present their fiancées with fans on which they have written the most impassioned poetry, embroidered garters with love mottoes woven in silk, and innumerable boxes of sweets. Engagement rings are not given, the bride-elect receiving instead a gold medal, which she wears suspended from a chain round her neck.

Sparrow Travels 3,000 Miles.

The most interesting traveler that came to port yesterday was a perky English sparrow that flew aboard the steamship Austrian Prince in Newcastle, England, and made the 3,000-mile voyage to this country in the rigging. Captain Davies said the bird flew down to the deck for its food and at night perched on the girders of the smokehole, where it was warm.

Discipline of Poverty.

The very discipline of poverty makes the heart and spirit and the body strong for love. It is the poor who know the intensity of human affection—the poor and patient who have to labor and toil for that prize to the uttermost farthing which ranks the simplest delight.—John O. Hobbes.

Ancient Philosophy.

Until philosophers are kings, and the princes of this world are filled with the spirit and power of philosophy, and political greatness and wisdom meet in one, cities will never cease from ill; no, nor the human race, as I believe, and not until then will our state have a possibility of life, and see the light of day.

Landed at Last.

A man who was much in need of sleep rolled out of bed during the night. The jar did not awake him thoroughly, and his hand wandered in exploration. It encountered the mesh of some protruding springs and a sturdy, iron corner post. "In jail at last," he murmured as he passed away.

Natural Mistake.

"What a magnificent row of chrysanthemums just above the hedge yonder."

"Laws, ma, them's the heads of the football players sitting just back of the hedge on a bench."

MADE PLEASANT HOME

How a Southern Widow Got Along in New York

A Southern widow with a small income wishes to live in New York, where her young son is entering upon his business career.

She wanted to avoid a boarding house life and have a real home and she thought out a plan by which she secured her wish. It was not the idea itself but her method of carrying it out which brought success.

She knew the high rentals charged for apartments, she also knew that she was a good housekeeper. Likewise she knew several young women who were supporting themselves through literary work, two of them in magazine offices, one on a newspaper and the other a novelist.

The dressing table and the tier of box drawers in the frame are chintz covered and the useful Vassar box of letters needs no disguise. Then there is in every room a desk or a writing table with drawers and shelves. To slip under the bed couches are long dress boxes on rollers with folding covers.

As this apartment is not of the up-town new type of moderate priced flats in which the rooms are merely stalls, there is place for the furniture and people as well as a screen if desired.

From the South the widow brought with her a few pieces of furniture and for the rest she arranged with one of the department store to pay monthly for all she needed.

As to the dining room outfitting she knew that all boarders enjoy small tables for themselves and any guest they may have. So she painted little kitchen tables of pine and painted them white. Simple white chairs to match, were easily found, also two serving tables, long and narrow to place against the wall.

When she wrote to them she found that they were more than eager to exchange their boarding house existence for membership in any apartment home she might establish. They agreed to pay the same rates as at their boarding places from $11 to $14 a week.

In her house hunting the widow expected to select a flat different from the usual type of a long hall with rooms on one side of it but she found that the modern flats arranged more like a house were either too far up town for business people or else the rent was too high.

After several weeks of house hunting she finally decided upon a flat of eight rooms, one large floor of an old brown stone house remodelled.

It was off Fifth Avenue, well down town. As the rent was higher than she had counted on she realized she must utilize every room toward making the pleasure of a living room.

Therefore she equipped all rooms except the dining room and kitchen in such a way that they could be used as both sleeping and sitting rooms. The general effect of the furnishings is of willow and chintz, with spray-wreaths and a sense of ease and comfort throughout the place. The davenport and couch beds are not only comfortable but also presentable.

The floor is rugless and throughout the room there is a sense of restful simplicity. The wall paper is a dull soft, two toned delft effect, and the china is white with just a little blue. There are hanging mossy balls of fern, and by the window is a narrow wicker stand with a flower box full of growing plants.

In the model little kitchen the whole equipment is also white and blue. She had a strip of wood put all around the hall with hooks for the plants, kettles and the small accessories.

She had plate glass tops fitted to the dining tables, dressers, stands steam coils, and window sills. They soon pay for themselves in saving of hired labor, wear and tear, and laundry bills, she believes. Linen or shirt or lace bureau scarfs, table mats etc., keep fresh forever under these glass sheets.

For breakfast and Sunday suppers doilies, usually of crochet are used in place of table cloths. She does not regularly serve luncheon as there is rarely any one at home then. This gives the maid plenty of time to do the housework thoroughly and to give plenty of attention to the other two meals.

Thus the widow from the south, despite her very small bank account, has made for herself, her son, and four young women, a pleasant home in New York.

QUARTET OF OLD FAVORITES

These Plantation Recipes Long Have Had the Indorsement of Housewives.

Never Fail Lemon Pie.—For two pies, heaping cupful of sugar, heaping tablespoon of cornstarch, 1½ cups of boiling water, juice and grated rind of lemon, beaten yolks of four eggs, lump of butter the size of a walnut. For the meringue use the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs with four table-spoons of sugar and a dash of flavoring.

Blue Ribbon Sponge Cake.—Have all ingredients ready before starting as delay is ruinous to sponge cake. Remember that everything depends on the mixing. Beat whites of four eggs till quite smooth; add beaten yolks, fold in two cups of sugar, three cooking spoonsful of water and lastly two level cups of flour with three level teaspoons of baking powder. Bake in a moderate oven.

White Fruit Cake.—Cup of butter, two cups of sugar, cup of sweet milk, 2½ cups of flour, whites of seven eggs, two level teaspoons of baking powder, pound each of raisins, figs, almonds, half pound citron sliced thin, teaspoon lemon extract, cup grated coconut. Bake two hours in a slow oven.

Spanish Salad.—Cut the contents of can of pimientos in long strips. With scissors cut fine the tender part of a stalk of celery and strip cup of olives from seeds. Serve with oil mayonnaise on crisp lettuce leaves.

VERY FINE LUNCHEON SALAD

Combination Both Appetizing and Nutritious, of Fruit, Vegetables, Eggs and Cheese.

As there is no dish more appetizing than salad for an afternoon luncheon, the following recipe may be gladly followed by girls when making up a luncheon menu. Take one ripe, juicy orange; one large, ripe banana; one mellow, yellow apple; one mellow pear; three large, perfect figs; one white, crisp stalk of young celery; a medium-sized piece of American cheese (must be old and crumbling); two hard-boiled eggs. Cut each into small pieces, grating the cheese. When all have been well mixed together with a wooden spoon in a wooden bowl, pour over the whole the juice of two lemons, twice the quantity of olive oil, a bit of mustard and salt, which have been beaten together till thick. Put into a mason jar, cover tightly and place in the ice box. When thoroughly chilled, put two spoonfuls upon a crisp white lettuce leaf on a small salad plate and serve with thin slices of bread and butter. This, with a cup of rich chocolate, makes an appetizing combination for luncheon. It may be followed by an ice or whipped cream and sponge cake.

Do You Know?

That you should never use soda for washing enamel pans. A little salt or fine ash applied with a soft cloth will remove all stains, and the pan should be thoroughly rinsed afterward with warm water.

That to keep the coffee pot sweet and clean you should put a tablespoon of carbonate of soda into it, fill it nearly full of water and let it boil for a little while. Then rinse very thoroughly with several lots of warm water. If this is done once a week the pot will always be fresh and nice.

That if all dishes cloths and tea cloths are soaped and well rinsed out every time they are used they will be no trouble at all to keep clean. It is much wiser to have three or four cloths in use than one or two stained and greasy ones.

That dishes in which flour and eggs have been mixed can be quite easily cleaned if they are allowed to stand a cold water for a few minutes before washing. Hot water only hardens the mixture and makes it very difficult to remove.

Light Bread.

Save a piece of dough about the size of a teacup. Set it away till you get ready to bake next time, then break it up in one quart warm water, add one-half cake of yeast foam; let stand one-half day, then mash four boiled potatoes in the evening, add potatoes to potato water; mix them with yeast and dough; add one-half cup of sugar, one heaping tablespoon of salt, and enough flour to make a thick paste; let stand till morning, then add one quart warm water, mix stiff as you can. Let rise twice, mix out in loaves, let rise. Then bake. This makes six loaves.

Currants Au Riz.

Boil a cup of rice carefully in slightly salted water, so that the grains may be dry and separate. Have ready a pint of ripe red currants, washed and stemmed and sprinkled with powdered sugar; sprinkle these thickly through with rice, pile lightly in glasses, and serve either hot or cold with melted currant jelly and whipped cream.—Harper's Bazar.

To Clean Discolored Vessels.

Put a good sized lump of salt into a cup of vinegar and pour into a vessel that is discolored. Let stand for half a day. Wash well with warm water and soap, and sediment will come off.—"Home Department," National Magazine.

Heaty Pudding.

Make it thick and put in half a cup of grated cheese while it is cooking. Put mince in a bread tin when done and in the morning slice and fry for breakfast.

The Perfect Toilet

The perfect toilet is best accomplished with hot water available in unlimited quantities.

The Gas Water Heater

A NOTED PREACHER TO VISIT GREENACRE.

Abdul Rahm Abbas, the illustrious Persian teacher who has visited many countries and who was so wonderfully received in the cathedrals of England and France, as well as in the largest churches of New York City and vicinity, is about to visit Greenacre.

His coming here at this time is especially to be appreciated, when it is realized that from all over this country and Canada, urgent calls are constantly being received by him, begging him to visit the many important centres.

The long years of rigorous imprisonment he endured in the vilest of Turkish dungeons amid conditions almost impossible for the human frame to bear makes him a most interesting figure. And when it is remembered that this imprisonment these terrible tortures were endured for the sake of the cause he is now preaching to all the world, and that he numbers among his followers millions of people, he becomes an historic figure.

All of the great newspapers of this country and abroad have published long accounts of him, his father, who is known as Baha'ullah: The Persian youth who is called the Bab (the gate, the announcer) as well as complete and full accounts of the new world-wide movement, so that it is most probable that many people about here have heard much regarding him.

His venerable figure his imposing, yet affable personality are, when once seen, never to be forgotten. And it is hoped that as he is very easy to reach, refusing no one really in earnest, and has also several interpreters constantly in attendance that a great number will find their way to Greenacre to see, and to hear.

He is expected to arrive on Friday afternoon and if he does a reception will be held in the Eudorion in the evening at eight o'clock in his honor.

A NARROW ESCAPE FOR PASSENGER TRAIN.

Wetfield, Aug. 13.—It was learned this morning that only the prompt discovery of a fishplate wedged into a switch on the main line of the Boston & Maine R. R. last evening prevented what might have proven a serious wreck.

As it was the locomotive of a local passenger train passed over the obstruction, and the jolting that followed caused the engineer to apply the emergency brakes, which brought the train to a sudden stop before any of the cars had met the damaged switch.

It was at this very place that three successive, but unsuccessful, attempts were made to wreck trains seven years ago.

As the train from Reading to Boston that passes through here at 8:25, ran on the tracks of the Portland Division at the spur track near the Boston Ice Company's plant just evening, the engineer noticed that the locomotive had encountered some obstruction. The train was going at a slow rate of speed, and he immediately brought it to a stop within a remarkably short distance.

The engineer's training and experience told him to look for some difficulty in the switch, and, with the members of the train crew he made a speedy investigation. It was found that a fishplate had been wedged into the switch for the evident purpose of throwing the train from the tracks.

That the train was not derailed was probably due to its slow speed, and the quick wit of the engineer. There are many express trains which pass over this place, and it is considered a fortunate circumstance that the local and not a through train discovered the trouble.

Detectives have been assigned to the case and are at work on it.

GIVING BEDDING A SUN BATH

Simple Apparatus That Will Prove a Boon to the Woman Who is Crowded for Space.

One of the first things to consider if you would have sanitation in your home is proper airing of the bed clothing. With the best intentions in the world some housewives can not air their bedding properly because of lack of window space. For their benefit an Illinois woman has devised the apparatus shown in the illustration. A pair of slide bars with a crossbar at one end have strips of canvas between them, thus forming a broad rack. There are rings at the open end of the frame and they slip over spikes in the corners of the window sill, while chains attached to the slide bars, near their outer ends are fastened on hooks above to suspend the shelf. Or this broad surface a woman can put the bedding, and give it good sunning. This device is especially handy for apartments where the bedroom has only one window.

For Airing Bedding.

FOR TASTY ALMOND TARTLETS

If You Have Not Already Used This Recipe You Will Find It Worthy the Highest Praise.

Half (pound) shortcrust paste, one quarter pound almonds (ground), one quarter pound castor sugar, three quarters of an ounce corn flour, one half ounce butter, a grate of nutmeg one whole egg, and one yolk, two tablespoons jam, fondant or water icing. Roll out the paste about one fifth of an inch thick, stamp out into rounds, and line the required number of buttered tartlet molds or patty-pans (the above quantities will make from eight to nine tartlets). Prick the bottom of the paste with a fork to prevent blisters in baking. Mix the corn flour with one whole and one half yolk egg. Work in the sugar, the ground almonds, lastly the nutmeg and butter (melted), put about half a teaspoonful of strawberry or raspberry jam in each lined mold, then fill up with the mixture and bake to a golden color. Brush over with transparent or water icing while hot, and serve when cold.

Chocolate Sponge Pudding.

Beat lightly two eggs, add one cupful of sugar and beat for three minutes more. Then add one cupful of flour, into which has been sifted one teaspoonful of baking powder. Stir well and add a half cupful of boiling water, season with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, pour into a square pan and bake in a moderate oven. When cool cut in two inch squares and pour over a cream made as follows: Place in a double boiler one pint of milk, and when hot stir in half a cupful of sugar, into which has been mixed one tablespoonful of corn starch, a bar of unsweetened chocolate, grated fine, and a small lump of butter. Stir until smooth and pour over the squares of cake.

MADE UP WITH GOOSEBERRIES

After-Dinner Sweets That Can Hardly Fall to Please All Members of the Family.

Gooseberry and Rice Pudding.—Butter a shallow pudding dish, put a layer of gooseberries in it, sprinkle with sugar and grated lemon peel, and then add a layer of boiled rice. Alternate these layers until the dish is full, having the last layer of rice. Sprinkle over with crumbs and bits of butter, and bake in a moderate oven until the fruit is tender; about half an hour will be sufficient.

Another very pleasing way to serve gooseberries with rice is as follows: Butter a mold, and cover the inside with a layer of boiled rice about an inch thick; leave the inside of the mold empty until the rice sets, then fill it with rich, thick stewed gooseberries; cover it with buttered paper, and steam it for an hour. Turn the pudding out carefully and serve with a thin custard or with cream and sugar.

Gooseberry Charlotte.—Top and tail the gooseberries, and stew until tender with a very little water. Add sugar to make quite sweet. Butter a shallow pudding dish, put in a layer of thin bread and butter, then a layer of the gooseberries and proceed in this way until the dish is full, having bread on top. Sprinkle over with brown sugar, pour over half a small cupful of water and make in a moderate oven for half an hour. Serve with whipped cream.—From the Housekeeper.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

A discolored bean pot may be restored to its original whiteness by letting buttermilk stand in it for a day or so.

If the brush is removed from the carpet sweeper, dipped in water, and then replaced, the sweeper will not raise a dust.

Lower the temperature of an oven considerably after the roast has been in for twenty minutes, and the juices will be retained.

Unbleached calico shrinks very much when washed. When making it up an extra inch a yard should be allowed for this.

The European method of cooking green peas is to boil them before shelling, and then to season and reheat them after shelling.

To prevent pictures from slipping and hanging uneven, hang them first face to the wall, and then twist around, making a cross in the wire.

When preparing a turkey or chicken, try rubbing it inside with a piece of lemon. It will whiten the flesh and make it more tender.

Good In Spinach.

Very young spinach is the best, and the fresh, juicy stalks and all can be cooked and minced together.

Poached eggs on spinach form a familiar dish, but the Italians vary it agreeably. First cook the spinach; then strain and mince it, and then stew it gently with butter; then beat up six new-laid eggs with it and stir these, and one ounce of Parmesan cheese into the spinach with a wooden spoon. Toss about rapidly until the mixture thickens, but do not let it boil. Serve on toast.

To cook spinach the good cook uses no water. First it has been thoroughly cleaned and washed until every grain of sand has disappeared. Then put in covered dish on range, stirring often; sufficient moisture will develop. By using extra water much of the good disappears when it is poured off. It takes about twenty minutes to cook it.

Rye Bread Requires No Kneading.

One pint rye flour, one cup molasses, one tablespoon salt, one tablespoon shortening; mix these well and add with three pints of boiling water, stir well and set aside to cool. Take the molasses cup without rinsing, fill half full of lukewarm water and crumb the yeast cake into it. When the mixture has cooled enough stir in the yeast cake and mix stiff with white flour. Set to rise over night and in the morning stir down, put in tin, allow to rise very light and bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. This amount makes four large loaves.

Portuguese Birthday Pudding.

Boil half pound of rice in water until it begins to open. Then strain it from the water and boil it slowly with a quart of milk, half a pound of loaf sugar, and the peel of a lemon. When the rice is sufficiently boiled, remove from the fire and take out all lemon peel. Stir until cold. Then add four beaten eggs, stirring it all the while, and a wineglassful of orange flower water. When properly mixed, put into a flat dish, and sprinkle with cinnamon powder.

Cook In Asbestos Cones.

Asbestos cones will be found invaluable to the open air camper. Roll a sheet of asbestos in cone shape and set the small end securely in the campfire. In it may be baked apples, potatoes, eggs, etc. A good sized cone will take the place of several cooking utensils.

Suet Pudding.

One cup molasses, one cup water, one cup chopped raisins, one cup chopped suet, 2½ cups flour, one teaspoon soda, salt; steam three hours.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Johanna Buckley

Death on Tuesday took from our midst one of the oldest Irish residents, Mrs. Johanna Buckley, widow of the late John Buckley, who passed away at her home on Jefferson street after a long illness aged 73 years. Deceased was a native of the county Kerry, Ireland, but came to America when a girl. For 55 years she has been a resident of Portsmouth, residing most of that long period in the house where she breathed her last. Her life was marked by her devotion to her home, family and her faith. In her friendship there was always a true ring of sincerity and loyalty. Neither creed or color were considered by her when able to assist a neighbor or a friend.

During her long illness the devotion of one for a parent was never more fully demonstrated in the faithful attention and constant care given by her loving daughter Nellie. Those left to mourn her loss are two daughters,
Mrs. Mary Frazier, and Miss Nellie
Buckley of this city, one son John Buckley of Exeter, a sister Mrs. George Allen also of this city.

Johanna C. Jones

Died, at Rye Beach Aug. 13th, Johanna C. Jones, aged 69 years. She is survived by two sons and a daughter.

Mrs. Jones was a native of Balli-more, Md., and was an aunt to the Secretary of the Navy Meyer.

ABDUL BAHU AT GREEN ACRE.

The great Persian teacher, Abdul Baha (literally "Servant of God") is to spend several days at Green Acre,
Eliot, arriving on Friday afternoon,
Aug. 16, about 4 o'clock, with his interpreters. The sight of these visitors from Persia and the Holy Land, in their flowing Eastern dress, will be a remarkable one among the Western Pines.

It will probably be remembered that this venerable teacher is the leader and center of the Bahai movement, which has spread so rapidly throughout the East and through many cities in Europe and America.
Abdul Baha, following in the steps of the martyred Babi, and of Baha Ullah, the Consolidator of the movement and Announcer of the "Most Great Peace," preaches no new religion, but the fundamental unity of all religions, declaring that we stand at the threshold of the Day of Brotherhood realized.
His adherents are taught that it is a day of deeds, not of words, "By deeds do we know our friends."

In Paris and in London last year,
Abdul Baha's discourses, remarkable for their directness and simplicity, drew large audience in religious and scientific circles. The same has been true in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Chicago. Abdul Baha has for many years, from within the walls of his captivity in the Holy Land followed the work for unity instituted by Miss S. J. Farmer at Green Acre, and he has long desired to visit the place. It is hoped that he will briefly address the friends at the close of the Eliot day exercises in the Bironian, at 4:30 o'clock on Friday next, and that he will hold a discourse every morning and evening during his three days' stay. Friends desiring to speak with him are asked to communicate with the interpreters,
Green Acre Inn, Eliot.

A large gathering is expected at the evening reception on Friday at eight o'clock, at which some notable figures will be present. All friends of Unity and Peace are welcome.

NOTICE.

International Union of Steam Engineers, No. 150, will hold an open meeting in Socialist Hall, 33 Congress street Wednesday evening, Aug. 14, at 8 p. m. All engineers and firemen are invited to attend as matters of vital importance to you will be taken up.

MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN IS DEDICATED

Interesting Exercises Held
This Afternoon in Connection With Formal Presentation of Gift.

The beautiful memorial fountain presented to the city by Mrs. Louise
P. Hovey in remembrance of her son, Ensign Charles Emerson Hovey, was dedicated and formally presented to the city this afternoon in the presence of a good sized number of spectators.

The presentation speech was made by Judge Thomas H. Shames and the acceptance was by Mayor Daniel W.
Badger. An eulogistic address of the brilliant young naval officer, whose career was suddenly ended in the Philippines, was made by Captain Barrett, U. S. N. Rev. Alfred Gooding read the following poem:

For the Honor of the Flag.
'Neath the burning tropic sunshine,
In that land beyond the seas,
Faced the wild fanatic Moros,
Clashed like beasts within their den,
With a courage naught could weaken,
Over rock and mountain crag,
Onward, upward, bravely cheering,
For the honor of the Flag.

Far away from home and kindred,
In that land beyond the seas,
Where the stars and stripes are warring,
In the spicy tropic breeze,
True to duty, home and country,
Sealing rock and mountain crag,
Onward, upward, death defying,
For the honor of the Flag.

At their head, their brave young leader,
Eashes onward, sword in hand,
Heedless of the storm of bullets,
Followed by his valiant band;
In their veins, the blood of heroes
Staining now each mountain crag,
Onward, upward, reeling, dying,
For the honor of the Flag.

"On your job, boys," cried the leader,
As a bullet laid him low,
"Don't mind me. Don't lose a minute,
Where the Flag goes you must go.
So they left him, pale and dying,
'Neath the shadow of the crag,
Onward upward madly fighting
For the honor of the Flag.

Now the Flag is proudly floating
O'er the Moros' mountain nest;
Now the bugle "Taps" has sounded
And the hero is at rest;
True to duty home and country,
'Neath the shadow of the crag,
Death be found, but fame undying,
For the honor of the Flag.

Clarke Smith,
